Gramercy Christian School (GCS), a K5-12 preparatory school located in the community of Newport, North Carolina, opened in 1981 as a ministry of Faith Evangelical Bible Church. Gramercy offers rigorous, faith-based academics, as well as opportunities for students to expand educational growth in competitive athletics and the fine arts. GCS is located near two thriving community college campuses and three major university marine labs. Gramercy is registered with the North Carolina Department of Non-Public Education, is a member of the Association of Christian Schools International, has chartered a membership in the National Beta Club, and operates a Student Government in grades 7-12. GCS follows a nondiscriminatory admission practice and admits students regardless of race or ethnicity. GCS seniors are expected to take the SAT, and all scores are reported.
